A Business High School.

The merry rapity-rap of the typewriter is heard all day long at the high school. Under the supervision of Professor Smith a commercial course has been outlined in the school, permitting students to learn correctly the use of the typewriter. Nearly all the pupils attracted by the novelty of the machine are becoming expert typewriters. As yet no classes in stenography have been organized, but it is hoped short-hand work may soon be commenced. The school already has two new typewriters, one Remington and one Underwood. Three additional machines are expected shortly from the coast, which will permit a larger number of students to obtain more practice in this useful adjunct to a business education.

A False Alarm.

An alarm of fire rung out by the fire bell Sunday night about eight o'clock attracted a large crowd to the residence of J. D. Kennedy on Church street, only to be disappointed in not finding anything more exciting than a spluttering electric light wire. A falling limb from a nearby tree, upon an electric cable on Church street caused a short circuit, and the current in the live wire burnt the insulation for several feet, giving the appearance of an incipient fire. Before the fire department arrived a lineman from the Electric Light Co. repaired the break without damage to himself or the crowd who were interested spectators of the performance.

LOSS FROM WET WRAPPERS.

Bananas on Enterprise Arrive Spoiled at San Francisco.

Once more, says the Advertiser, growers of bananas, both in Hilo and Honolulu, have to stand a loss on their shipments to San Francisco. Not so long ago the Enterprise left hundreds of bunches on the wharf at Hilo, claiming they could not carry all that had been deposited there, and they rotted. Now comes the news from San Francisco that because the steamer Enterprise towed the barge Santiago from Hilo to San Francisco, and was so long in making the trip, hundreds of bunches spoiled and were thrown thrown into San Francisco bay. The vessel arrived there September 12, having been eleven days on the run. All the decayed bunches were thrown overboard, and from Howard street wharf to a point off Lime Point the bay was dotted with bad fruit.

From reports received on the return trip of the steamer which arrived Saturday morning, it is learned that in nearly every instance the decayed fruit spoiled from damp wrappings and not from any delay in transportation. Much of the fruit was discovered to be "wet" wrapped at Hilo before being placed aboard the S. S. Enterprise and the local agent accepted such bunches only at owner's risk. As a consequence the loss, if any, sustained must fall upon the shippers, who carelessly wrapped their fruit, and not upon the transportation company. It is stated that one day extra required to tow the barge Santiago to the coast, was not sufficient to have caused the great loss from spoiling of the last cargo of bananas aboard the S. S. Enterprise.

Test Cases Postponed.

By agreement of counsel and owing to the absence of Judge Stanley in Honolulu, who has been retained for the defense in the two test cases before Judge Parsons to determine the right of Sheriff Keolanui to appoint his subordinates, the hearing went over until next Thursday. These are the mandamus proceedings brought by Norman K. Lyman against County Auditor Maguire to compel him to pay over salary alleged to be illegally withheld, and the quo warranto case against Policeman Harry A. Knell, requiring him to show by what authority he acts as a police officer. It is expected Judge Stanley will be on hand next Thursday so that both cases may be heard at that time.

S. S. Enterprise Arrives.

The S. S. Enterprise dropped anchor in port at six o'clock Saturday morning nine days from San Francisco. Pleasant weather was encountered and with a congenial passenger list, an agreeable trip was enjoyed by all. There were seventeen cabin passengers, as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, two children and maid; Mrs. W. G. Walker, two children and nurse; Mrs. D. W. Marsh, J. W. Mason, Ted Guard, K. T. Romie, Miss Francis Gonsalves, Miss F. Beigsickscher, and Miss N. Beigsickscher. The steamer brought 41 bags of mail besides a general cargo of merchandise.

SATISFIED OR RECONCILED.

An Official From Korea so Finds His Countrymen Here.

"I find the Korean laborers satisfied or reconciled to their conditions."

Thus spoke Secretary S. H. Yoon of the Foreign Office of Korea who was registered at Hotel Demosthenes, and who is on a special mission from his government to inquire into the condition of Korean laborers in Hawaii. Secretary Yoon is accompanied by Rev. John W. Wadman, who is conducting a Korean Mission in Honolulu and is pastor of the First M. E. Church. Because of complaints which found their way back to the home government as to the treatment of Korean laborers, especially in Yucatan, the Emperor of Korea suspended emigration to Mexico and Hawaii, and in order to ascertain the exact truth of these reports, Secretary Yoon is making an official visit to Hawaii and Mexico.

"There are 13,000 Korean laborers in Yucatan," said Secretary Yoon, who speaks English with fluency, "engaged in the sisal industry and approximately 7,300 Korean laborers who have come to the Territory of Hawaii since 1902 when the first exodus of Korean laborers left their homes. My countrymen are not naturally travelers or of a roving disposition, and have largely remained within the confines of their own country. But beguiled by the attractive stories of opportunities elsewhere, they came to Hawaii and to Mexico with the permission of the home government. Either from disappointment or other cause, reports have come back of their dissatisfaction, and in May all emigration was suspended. My mission is to find out, as far as possible, the condition of the Korean laborers employed here."

"Generally I can say the Koreans employed on the plantations are satisfied or are reconciled to their surroundings. There does not appear to have been any cases of cruel or harsh treatment, the gravest charge being abusive language by some of the overseers. I found the Korean quarters as comfortable as could be expected on most plantations and every consideration shown to make them happy and comfortable. Unfortunately, many of those brought here were recruited from the trifling, shiftless ne'er-do-wells, who are not satisfied to remain anywhere even in their own country. The rest appear to be satisfied with the treatment they receive or reconciled to their conditions. I shall so report to my government, and believe a relaxation of the present rule prohibiting all emigration will be adopted."

Secretary Yoon and Rev. Wadman made a tour of the various plantations along windward Hawaii and left Friday to visit Maui. After finishing his investigation of conditions in the Territory, he will proceed to Mexico in pursuance of instructions from his government.
